DETAILED ACTION

1. claims 1-20 are presented for examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

2. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Natarajan et al. (6584502) (hereinafter Natarajan).

3. As per claims 1 and 18, Natarajan discloses a method comprising:
assigning (figure 2, element 260, 202) a plurality of devices to a group (figure 5C, element 254, col 4, lines 49-54);
assigning (figure 2, element 260, 202) at least one event-handling policy (figure 2 element 254) to the group (figure 5C, element 254, col 14, lines 51-52), wherein the assigned policy is associated with each of the plurality of devices in the group (figure 2, element 254, col 14, lines 33-50);
and evaluating a current state of each device (figure 17, element 1718) before the assigned policy (figure 17, element 1728) is applied to the device (figure 17, col 31, lines 35-67).

4. As per claim 2, Natarajan discloses evaluating a current state of each device determines whether each device is currently a member of the group (col 14, lines 33-50, it is implied in the tree structure children have only one parent).

5. As per claim 3, Natarajan discloses evaluating a current state of each device (figure 17, element 1718) includes:

determining whether a particular device is currently a member of the group (figure 5C, element 254, col 14, lines 5-20); and applying the assigned policy to the particular device if the particular device is currently a member of the group (col 14, lines 33-35).

6. As per claims 4 and 12, Natarajan discloses each device is assigned at least one additional policy that is not assigned to the group (col 14, lines 51-56).

7. As per claims 5 and 19, Natarajan discloses a particular device is assigned to multiple groups (col 14, lines 33-50).

8. As per claims 6 and 13, Natarajan discloses the event-handling (figure 2, element 254) policy defines how the device is configured (col 8, lines 27-38).

9. As per claims 7, 14 and 20, Natarajan discloses the event-handling (figure 2, element 254) policy identifies the types of events that are provided to each device (col 10, lines 40-50).

10. As per claim 8, Natarajan discloses the method is implemented by a management module (col 19, lines 1-15).

11. As per claim 9, Natarajan discloses One or more computer-readable memories (figure 5A, element 63, 65, col 12, lines 46-51) containing a computer program that is executable by a processor to perform (col 12, lines 46-59).

12. As per claim 10, Natarajan discloses an apparatus comprising:
a group of devices having an associated event-handling policy (figure 5C, element 254);

an event log configured to store event data (figure 2, element 252, col 13, lines 56-57); and a management module coupled to the group of devices and the event log (figure 2, element 260,262,252, col 19, lines 1-16), wherein a current state of each device in the group of devices is evaluated by the management module before the event-handling policy is applied to the device (figure 6 and 7, col 19, 1-16, col 14, lines 34-50).

13. As per claim 11, Natarajan discloses a plurality of groups of devices are coupled to the management module (figure 2, element 254,260, col 19, lines 1-19).

14. As per claim 15, Natarajan discloses the apparatus is part of an enterprise computing system (figure 2, see abstract).

15. As per claim 16, Natarajan discloses the management module receives event data generated by a plurality of event providers (figure 2, element 260, 262, 254, 270, col 19, lines 1-19).

16. As per claim 17, Natarajan discloses the management module determines whether a particular device is currently a member of the group before the event-handling policy is applied to the device (col 19, lines 1 –47, it is implied during the registration process).

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's arguments filed 02/04/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive:

In response to applicant's argument "assigning a plurality of devices", the examiner respectfully disagrees. The Natarajan prior art assigning (fig 2, element 260 and 202, col 28, lines 25-67 and col29, lines 1-35, ADMIN and USER both can modify or change the polices, changing includes assigning) a plurality of devices (fig 5c element 254, col 4, lines 49-54, col 19, lines 5-8 and col 14, lines 33-50, modular term is used to group the polices), evaluating a current state of each device before the assigned policy is applies to the device (fig 17, col 31, lines 35-67 and col 32, lines 1-46 and col 21, line 20, packets dropped from the link is change in a state, fig 17 shows evaluating, re-evaluating , notifying and dynamically modifying the policy). Therefore, limitations are met by the reference. Claim 1 stands rejected.

In response to applicant's argument "group of devices having associated event-handling policy", the examiner respectfully disagrees. The Natarajan prior art (fig 5c element 254, col 4, lines 49-54, col 19, lines 5-8 and col 14, lines 33-50, modular term is used to group the polices), data store is configured to store events (col 8, lines 52-67 and col 13, lines 12-20, network operation includes events). Therefore, limitations are met by the reference. Claim 10 stands rejected.

Conclusion

2. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
